This enabled me to follow his footsteps closely, and in such places as the very dangerous crevasse near the grand plateau we moved in immediate succession. For instance, before he would take the fingers of his right hand out of the hole which had been cut in the ice wall for the purpose, my left hand would touch his right hand, and be ready to occupy the hole as soon as he relinquish With the exception of cutting very excellent sters for me, the guides during the ascent did not assist me in any way. I was glad to find that the ascent of such steep places as the Bosse was much easier than I had anticipated. The cutting of steps required considerable time, and allowed me at my leisure to prepare for each difficult and dangerous step. Besides carrying a strong alpenstock, I always take with me in difficult climbs a short walking-stick, which I often use in my right hand as an indicator, and to show the skill FLAVORING STOCK FOR SOUPS, MADE-which it is possible to attain in this way I may mention that I did not miss a single step in the entire ascent. The Earth's Population. [From the Pall-Mall Gazette.] In the new issue (No. 6) of Behm & Wag-ner's well-known "Bevölkerung der Erde" there are several points of fresh interest. Since the last issue, about two years ago, the population would seem to have been in creased by about 17,000,000, the present population of the earth, according to Behm & Wagner, being 1,456,000,000, as against 1,439,000.000 two years ago. This, however, cannot be set down to absolute natural increase, much of the addition being, no doubt, the result of new and more accurate statistics. The new issue has, for example, to take account of sev-eral new censuses, some of them in countries where the population has not been accurately counted for many years, if at all. We have, for example, the census of Spain in 1877; Portugal, 1878; Greece, 1879; Bosnia and Herzegovina 1879; New Zealand, 1878; Peru, 1876; Denmark, 1880, besides several smaller places. The total population is divided among the continents as follows: Europe, 315,929,000, or at the ratio of 32.5 per square kilomètre; Asia, 834,707,000, or 18.7 per square kilomètre; Africa, 205,679,-000. or 6.9 per square kilomètre; America, 95,495,500, or 2.5 per square kilomètre; Australia and Polynesia, 4.031,-000, or 0.4 per square, kilomètre; the remainder, 82,000, belong to the North Polar region, mostly Iceland and Greenland. Although the census of the United States has been taken some months since, and a few of the data cozed out in an irregular fashion, Herren Behm and Wagner have not made any use of the results wisely preferring to await official statistics. They calculate that the census ought to give a result of at least 47,000,000. The editors have also made a fresh planimetrical calcula tion of the area of Africa, yielding a result of 29.283,300 square kilomètres. Of this area about six and a third millions are forest and culture land, the same area savannabs and scattered woods, 1,500,000 busb, 4,200,-000 steppe, and 19,500,000 desert. This last item seems appalling, but it should be remembered that much of this desert may be reclaimable, and that it includes large areas of fertile oases. A new planimetric calcu-lation of the area of South America yields a result of 17,732,128 square kilomètres, differing greatly from the sum of the efficial areas given by the South American govern-

A Milliemaire Criminal.

[From the London Telegraph.]

Not every criminal who incurs the penalty of banishment to Siberia is out that account to be compassionated if we may believe the accounts of Mr. Juchanzeff's sojourn in exile recently published by a St. Petersburg journal. This eminent malefactor, known throughout Russia by the significant sobriquet of "The Stealer of Millions," has contrived to retain possession of the enormous fortune he acquired by high-class swinding. When condemned to deportation he travelled to Krasnojarsk, the town selected for his penal residence by the imperial authorities, in princely style, attended by a suite of servants, carriages, and horses, and it would appear that he is to become the leader of fashion in that Siberian city. Tailors, perfumers, and tobseconists advertise their wares under his name; he has been elected a member of the leading club, and is about to contract an alliance with a young lady belonging to one of the first families of Krasnojarsk. His dinner-parties are attended by the chief official personages and local notabilities; ladies of the best society flock to his evening recently and accept the salendity recently. dies of the best society flock to his evening receptions and accept the spiendid presents with which be judiciously courts their favor and social countenance. It is proposed by a committee of Krasnojarsk "lionnes" to present him, upon his wedding-day, with a wreath of laurel, oak leaves, and roses. Altogether, for a convicted misdemeanant, undergoing sentence of banishment, he appears to be leading an uncommonly pleased. pears to be leading an uncommonly pleasant life. ST. PETER'S NEW ORGAN.-Although in complete in all its details, the new grand organ in St. Peter's Cathedral, which has been in the course of construction for several weeks past, will be opened to-morrow morning at high mass, at 10:30 o'clock. The completion of the instrument has been greatly delayed by the non-arrival from Baltimore of a number of the pipes, which should have been here some time since. This, however, while it will not give an opportunity of displaying the full powers of the organ, will not interfere with the rendition of the music selected for the occasion, which will embrace parts of Haydn's Second and Third Masses, and Mozart's grand Twelfth Mass. Kessnich's orchestral band will lend material aid in the vatious accompaniments, and Professor Edward Caulfield, the Cathedral organist, will play several choice voluntaries.

MANCHESTER AND VICINITY.

Hustings Court.—The Hustings Court— Judge W. I. Clopton presiding—was in session yesterday, and was engaged in trying civil cases. All the criminal cases that were on the docket at this term have been tance of about twenty-five feet, striking his head and shoulder. He received a terrible cut upon the face, and was badly bruised matters. It will meet again this morning upon his shoulder. When taken up he was at 11 o'clock.

insensible, and fears were entertained that he was seriously if not fatally injured. Asquitted .- Patrick Mosby (colored) charged with stealing a lot of lumber from Du Val & Robertson, was tried in the Hust-ings Court Thursday afternoon and ne-CHANGES AT THE POST-OFFICE. - Postmasof the late Willie Howlett, who was killed at the Tredgar Thursday, took place from the Methodist church yesterday at 12 o'clock. Rev. B. F. Woodward conducted the services and preached a very touching sermon. Deceased was a member of this church, and his death is deeply regretted. the body was interred at Maury cemetery.

The afflicted parents return sincere thanks to the Tredegar Company and the workman, there for the kind attention that men there for the kind attention they showed to the family.

County Supervisors.—The Board of Su-pervisors of Chesterfield county met yesterday to examine the delinquent tax-list and to consider matters of interest to the county. They will probably take all the week to examine this list under the new law relative to the matter. The Board was in session nearly all day yesterday at the county court-house. D. M. Goode presided.

Statistical,-The clerk of the Chesterfield County Court recorded thirty-five deeds during the month of September and issued twelve marriage-licenses-seven white and five colored. This shows a slight decrease in the number of deeds recorded as com-pared with the report for the month of August, and a heavy falling off in the number of marriage-licenses issued.

Major Daniel to Speak in Chesterfield .- Major John W. Daniel, the gifted Virginian orator, is announced to address the people of Chesterfield at the Courthouse October 11th. Doubtless there will be an immense turnout of the citizens of that old county to greet the distinguished speaker, who de- OTHER. livers his first address to a Chesterfield as semblage next Monday week.

Brief Items.—There is only one prisoner confined in the county jail. He is serving a term of six months for unlawful cutting, and is colored. Mr. A. Drewry Jones, of Chesterfield, was painfully injured several days ago while cutting flowers. By some means the knife which he held in his hand slipped and cut his right knee-cap. The first frost of the season fell in Chetertield Thursday night. Justice Clayton, of Manchester township, will try several misdemeanor cases to-day at Gregory's Store.
